3. Margin trading

- a. Foreign Exchange and CFDs are margin products and the transactions related to them will be done on margin. This means that the Client must supply a specified initial margin (deposit), on agreement, of the overall contract value. The Client declares that he has read, understood and accepted the Risk Disclosure document available on the website of the Company.
- b. If the Account Equity falls below the margin requirement, the trading platform will trigger an order to close all open positions. When positions have been over-leveraged or trading losses are incurred to the point that insufficient equity exists to maintain current open positions, a margin call will result, and open positions must be liquidated.
- c. The margin call process is entirely electronic and there is no discretion on the Company's part as to the order in which trades are closed.
- d. It is strongly advised that Clients maintain the appropriate amount of margin in their Accounts at all times. Margin requirements may be changed based on account size, simultaneous open positions, trading style, market conditions, and at the discretion of the Company.
- e. The Client thus accepts, acknowledges and understands that:
 - i. The Company does not check whether the Transactions of this nature are appropriate to his financial situation;
 - ii. The Company sets freely the amount of margins, the assets that may be used as collateral and the extent of any collateral such assets may provide;
 - iii. All the Client's assets are therefore blocked and pledged in this connection;
The Company may also change its rates of initial margin and/or notional trading requirements at any time without prior notice, which may result in a change to the margin the Client is required to maintain;
Taking into consideration the low margin normally demanded for these Transactions, price variations in the underlying asset may result in major losses, which could significantly exceed the investment and margin deposit committed by the Client;
The Client may be required to provide a margin at very short notice to avoid the risk of having his positions closed and realizing a total loss;
If the Client fails to comply with a request for additional funds within the time prescribed, the position(s) may be liquidated at a loss and the Client will be liable for any resulting deficit;
In certain cases, price changes may be so drastic that the Client's positions may be closed without any period allowed for him to restore his margin;

The Company provides the Client with online access to enable the Client to monitor his margin requirement at all times;

The margin calls are made by the Company directly through the online trading platform only and the Client has the possibility to see on his account the existing assets and margins.

4. Risk acknowledgement

The Client accepts, acknowledges and understands that the Transactions are:

highly speculative;

carry a high level of financial risk, as they are subject to excessive price fluctuations which may cause substantial losses;

only suitable for persons who are able to cope with the associated risks by bearing the financial losses.

Furthermore the Client accepts, acknowledges and understands that:

the Company does not guarantee the capital of the Client portfolio or its value at any time or any money invested in any Financial Instrument;

the value of any investment in Financial Instruments may fluctuate and the investment may become of no value;

If the Client has opened more than one Account, the Company shall be authorized to consider and treat these different Accounts as a single unit. Among other rights that the Company has in the way of handling these accounts, is the transferring of funds between accounts to cover possible negative balances, of any of these accounts, without this affecting in any way the right of the Company to terminate the account or close all Client's open positions.

Any funds received in a currency for which the Client does not hold a sub-account shall be converted by the Company into the Client's base currency. The conversion will be made at the exchange rate applied on the day and at the time when the relevant funds are at the disposal of the back-office department of the Company. Upon request, the Client may open a sub-account.

6. Client categorization

MiFID recognizes that investors have different levels of knowledge, skill and expertise, and that regulatory requirements should reflect this. MiFID introduces two main categories of Clients (retail and professional) and a separate and distinct category for a limited range of businesses (eligible counterparties). Different levels of regulatory protection are attached to each category. The less experienced, knowledgeable and sophisticated investors (retail Clients) will be afforded a higher level of protection than that afforded to investors in the professional or eligible counterparty category.

The Client is bound by the MiFID Client Categorization document available on the website of the Company.

7. Obligations of the Client

The Client confirms that is familiar with the way financial markets work and with the Transactions he wishes to undertake. Any decision to buy or sell should be taken by the Client alone and should be based on his own assessment of his financial situation and his investment objectives.

The Client acknowledges the fact that the Introducing Broker is not a representative of the Company nor is it authorized to provide any guarantees or any promises with respect to the Company or its services.

11. Inducements (payments to/from third parties)

The Company, further to the fees and charges paid or provided to or by the Client or other person on behalf of the Client, as stated in paragraph 10 of this Agreement, may pay and/or receive fees/commission to/from third-parties, provided that these benefits are designed to enhance the quality of the offered service to the Client and not impair compliance with the Company's duty to act in the best interests of the Client.

All notices/information provided by the Company or received from the Clients should be in English.

Such notices or communications shall be deemed to have been received by the Client and transmitted in the proper manner once the Company has placed them on the Platform or sent them by e-mail. Orders placed in writing via email and duly signed;

If the order aims to legalize the proceeds from illegal acts or activities (money laundering).

The client needs to be aware that the company will refuse to accept or it may cancel any orders placed and/or
